

Per your request, here's an update from the NCURA PDC as of April 14, 2011:

We're looking at NCURA TV 2012 programming ideas and NCURA TV 2011 is available for purchase by accessing NCURA Web page. Also, past NCURATV DVDs and webinar CD ROMs are available in the NCURA Bookstore. The next online tutorial will be on Intellectual Property. The totally revamped publication on clinical trials will be available later this summer. Updating of the current on-line tutorials is in progress.

We'll have a call for volunteers soon for faculty for the NCURA traveling workshops. We appreciate all the excellent service from Region IV volunteers that are currently travelling workshop faculty: Glenda Bullock and Heather Offhaus for DRA, Joe Gindhart, Diane Barrett and Beth Seaton for Fundamentals, Bob Andresen for the FRA Workshop, and Jim Barbret and Pamela Webb for SPA II.

The Evaluation committee is now operating more independently from the PDC and has been working to improve the feedback mechanism on NCURA programming.

There's a website for communicating "threaded delivery". We're only anticipating that will be needed until the NCURA Search capabilities are upgraded (updated web page). The site is at:

http://www.ncura.edu/content/educational\_programs/threaded\_index.php

The neighborhoods and the magazine are also moving along well. We also appreciate PDC members from Region 4 as well: Linda Ward serves as Neighborhood Program Committee Chair.

If the Regional Board members have some programming ideas you would like to send to me, I'll share with PDC Chair.
